

Why register for e-learning modules ?

Preferred Practice Guidelines (PPGs) are necessary to ensure quality care to our clients whom require an ear impression for their custom made hearing protection devices. The e-learning modules have been designed to ensure the quality of our products and services throughout our territories.

By registering for e-learning you will gain prior knowledge of the topics we will discuss during the practical training sessions. This is time-and cost effective. It ensures that Ear-o-Tec is able to set the same standards for all prospective technicians. You will be able to complete the modules in your own time and at a location that is convenient to you. All you need is a computer and access to the internet. Your practical training sessions will be arranged after all modules have been completed successfully.

E-learning modules will cover all the information a technician will need to successfully fit and monitor a client with custom made hearing protection devices.
